Excerpt: . . . true, there is always a certain number of curious people who would like to know how such an interview was procured, whether by cable, wireless telegraphy, telepathy, or whether it is a new effort on the part of the daily press to convey truth in the form of a novelette. In view of all the facts, it will certainly be entertaining reading for Dr. Aguilar in his far-away Madrid home, and will give him some idea of the perfection to which interviewing has been reached in the United States. EXPLANATION AND APOLOGY. Tiik serious illness of the editor through several weeks has made the preparation of the present number somewhat difficult. Our readers and correspondents will, therefore, kindly overlook all defects and delays in noticing their communications. AH matter requiring the editors special care, such as illustrated papers and book reviews, are necessarily held until he is able to resume his duties. Domestic Correspondence. BOSTON LETTER To The Editor: Sin, --Vacations are over and the fall work has begun in earnest. Every one appears in excellent spirits after their well-earned rest. Many of our friends have taken long and delightful trips. Dr. Julius Werner spent the summer in Europe, Dr Clapp was at his Maine camp for a long stay, others have had equally pleasant times, and generally most every one has given up some time to the study of geography and tried to forget all about where they came from. The Harvard Odontological Society...
