The robin and the wren are flown, And from the shrubs the jay, And from the wood top caws the crow, Through all the gloomy day. Where are the flowers, the fair young flowers, That lately sprang and stood In brighter light and softer airs, A beauteous sisterhood? Alas! they all are in their graves; The gentle race of flowers Are lying in their lowly beds, With the fair and good of ours. The rain is falling where they lie, But the cold November rain Calls not from out the gloomy earth The lonely ones again. The windflower and the violet, They perished long ago, And the briarrose and the orchis died Amid the summer glow;...
